BIOGRAPHY

Damian Etienne, referred to in the entertainment industry as “Hypasounds”, is a soca artist, song writer, producer and disc-jockey.

Since the late 90’s, Hypasounds has been one of the most popular deejays in Barbados, due to his unique style. In 2006, he took his career in a new direction, when he began singing soca.

Hypasounds eventually got his breakthrough as an artist in 2012, when he released “Roll It”. This track started the journey for Hypasounds to reach international stardom, winning him the International Soca Award - Best New Male Artist. Three years later, Hypasounds permanently stamped his name on the soca scene with the hit songs “Sugar Rush” and “How She Like It.” These songs propelled him to the finals in both the Sweet Soca and Party Monarch Competitions in Barbados, earning him third position in the latter. He also performed as a finalist with “How She Like It” in the International Soca Monarch Competition in Trinidad. Hypasounds has many achievements and has received a number of awards, inclusive of 2 Barbados Music Awards for Excellence and Dedication.

Due to his success, he is now the lone artist on the island to be an Ambassador for the fast food franchise KFC. He is also the Ambassador for The Hometown Festival 2019.

Hypasounds is currently a major force within the entertainment industry, not only in Barbados, but also internationally. He is a highly demanded artist, whose travels have taken him throughout the Caribbean, the US, Canada and the UK, to perform his catalog of hits, which more recently includes “Dip” and “Get Up And Move”.
